Conference Scholarship Application For First Time Attendees From Small Units of Government

The NC Government Finance Officers Association holds conferences each year to promote professional development, provide continuing education credit, communicate current issues in government finance, and offer opportunities to network with peers. Conferences are critically important to develop and maintain expertise in government finance and satisfy our responsibilities as finance professionals.

Small units of government often lack the resources to send their finance professionals to these conferences. Accordingly, the Executive Committee offers a limited number of scholarships to NCGFOA members who would like to attend a NCGFOA conference for the first time. The scholarship covers the conference registration fee and, if needed, a hotel room. It does not cover meals outside those provided at the conference or mileage. You must be a member of NCGFOA to be awarded a scholarship. If you are not yet a member, you can join NCGFOA after your notification of scholarship award.

Eligibility: First-time attendee from a unit

- A county with a 25,000 or less population,
- A city or town with 10,000 or less population or
- A special district or public authority serving 10,000 customers or less.

Member Name: _____ Unit of Government: _____

Telephone: _____ Email: _____

Position: _____ Years in position: _____

Please briefly describe your financial background and what you wish to gain from attending the conference.

In addition to the waiver of registration fees, do you need financial assistance with lodging? Yes or No

The Executive Committee will evaluate all applications. You will be notified of a scholarship decision as soon as possible. If you have already registered for the conference, your registration fees will be reimbursed.
